A CHILD'S JUDGE

PROBATE JUDGE HAS CHARGE OF PETTY OFFENDERS.

CRAWFORD IS OFFICER

Neglected and Delinquent Children Will Now Be Cared for By State—Best Keep Them Off Streets.

Probate Judge W. H. Conn is now judge of the juvenile court in addition to his duties in the probate court, but he has not yet opened his new court. The recent legislature adopted the juvenile court law.

Judge Conn has selected W. H. Crawford as probation officer of the court. If necessary for the adequate care and protection of the children under the jurisdiction of the court, the court may also appoint one or more deputy probation officers to be paid for their services out of the funds of the county. The court may also appoint voluntary probation officers to serve without compensation.

The juvenile court has charge of all neglected or delinquent children under the age of 17 years, excepting those who have been convicted of a capital offense. When such a jurisdiction is obtained over a child it shall last until the child reaches its majority. The statute minutely defines the words neglected and delinquent, and under the delinquent list is included nearly all the petty misdemeanors and crimes, such as jumping trains, remaining away from home at night, profane language in public places and similar offenses. The words "neglected child" shall mean any child under the age of seventeen years, who is destitute or homeless or abandoned, or dependent upon the public for support, or who habitually begs or receives alms, or who is suffering from cruelty or depravity of its parents, or other persons in whose care it may be, and any child who, while under the age of 10 years, is found peddling or selling any articles or singing or playing any musical instrument for gain on the streets or in public.

Any reputable person, being a resident of the county, having knowledge or information of a child who appears to be neglected or delinquent, may file a petition in writing, setting forth the facts, verified by affidavit, with the clerk of the probate court. Upon the filing of the petition, unless the parties shall voluntarily appear or be in court, a summons shall be issued in the name of the state, requiring the child and the person having custody or control of the child or with whom the child may be, to appear. If any person summoned shall fail to appear without reasonable cause and abide the order of the court, or to bring the child, such person may be proceeded against as in the case of contempt of court. If there is no person in charge or care of the child, the court may order the sheriff to take control.

Witnesses may be summoned and testimony taken as to the habits, surroundings, condition and tendencies of said child.

The county court is to provide a place or places of detention for children coming within the provisions of this law, and such place or places shall be separate and apart from places in which are confined adults convicted or under arrest, and the court may arrange with any incorporated society maintaining a suitable place for detention for children in the county or with suitable families, provided the payment for the care of such child to any incorporated society or family shall not exceed a rate of $4 a week.

Whenever there is to be a child brought before the court, the clerk of the court shall notify the probation officer. He shall make such investigation of the child as may be required by the court and be present in court at the hearings of all cases, to take charge of any child before and after hearing. The probation officer shall receive a salary, not exceeding $1,000.

FIRST DEFEAT FOR THEM.

The First Methodists Beaten by the Baptists in Sunday School Ball League Game.

After a straight run of victories, five of them, the First Methodists tasted the initial defeat of the season Thursday afternoon when the Baptists took the long end of an 8 to 2 score in the ball game at the Normal grounds.

Conley pitched his usual good game for the Baptists, and, for about the first time of the season, was well supported by his teammates. He held the Methodists to four hits and two runs, while his fellows clouted the ball to safe territory ten times. Allen on third base made the only errors, four of them, but they were not costly. McCampbell in left field played a brilliant game for the Baptists, taking four hard chances and making four putouts.

The Methodists played a loose game. Simmons was hit hard, and nine errors were made behind him.

Two more Sunday school league games will be played Saturday afternoon. The first one at 2:30 o'clock will be between the Presbyterians and Baptists. The second at 4:30 o'clock will be played by the Buchanan Street Methodists and Christians.

The standing of the teams now is:

Team.	Won.	Lost.	Pr.ct
First Methodists	5	1	.833
Baptists	3	3	.500
Harmony	2	2	.500
Presbyterian	2	3	.400
Christian	2	3	.400

A BAN ON CHAUTAUQUA SALUTE.

Handkerchief Waving is Means of Spreading Tuberculosis, Doctor Says.

Down with the Chautauqua salute! It may look very pretty to see thousands of fluttering handkerchiefs waving a greeting, but it is not sanitary.

So says Dr E. Arthur Carr, president of the state medical board of Nebraska, and so think two hundred homeopathic physicians who heard Dr. Carr condemn the Chautauqua salute Wednesday at Denver, Col., day before the meeting of the American Institute of Homeopathy.

Dr. Carr says he has prepared a bill, making the giving of the salute a criminal offense, and that he will introduce it in the Nebraska legislature. He urges that a similar bill be passed in Colorado.

"The salute is one of the most dangerous means of spreading tuberculosis germs," said Dr. Carr. "If the people must mave something, I intend to put a clause in my bill making that something a small silk American flag."

Horses Sunstroke.

According to the Burlington Junction Post Dr. J. A. Hendricks, Burlington Junction's veterinarian, was the busiest man in the country last week treating horses that had been sunstroke. One belonging to C. E. Walker lived after treatment. C. D. Caldwell and a Mr. Bishop of near Clearmont each had a horse with lockjaw, and both of the animals were saved by prompt treatment. A mule belonging to M. W. Staples and a horse belonging to Charles Vulgamott died before they could be treated. The intense heat of last week was hard on the horses as well as the men.

SEVEN-HEADED WHEAT.

George Murray of Skidmore is Growing a New Kind of Wheat to Give a Trial Here.

According to the Skidmore New Era George W. Murray of Skidmore brought to that office a few days ago several heads of a new kind of wheat which he has growing in his garden. The peculiarity of this wheat, like the Grecian sea serpent, is, it is hydra headed, but unlike this fabled sea monster, when you cut one of these heads off, two will not come in its place.

Mr. Murray got the seed from which this wheat grew from his farm, near Egbert, Wyoming. It came from Montana to that state, and is raised extensively in the northwest. It is a spring wheat, very hardy and very productive, and has been known to yield in Montana as high as seventy bushels to the acre.

Its striking peculiarity, as we said above, is its plurality of heads. It has one head growing out from the end of the stem, as ordinary wheat, then on either side of this head are three smaller heads, making seven on one straw, hence the name, "seven-headed wheat."

The Bible reader might see in this wheat Pharoah's seven fat ears rising up out of the sea, and if it proves as productive all over the wheat growing country as it has in the northwest, it might mean not only seven years of plenty to the bread eaters of the world. Anyway, Mr. Murray is going to give it a trial in Missouri and see what it will do. It has a nice plump berry and he thinks there should be more grains grow on seven heads than on one.

In Jail for Drinking on Train.

William Stillwell of Kansas City, who was taken into custody by the Burlington train crew at Barnard Wednesday night for drinking on the train and turned over to Sheriff Wallace here, was tried before Justice W. L. Johnson yesterday afternoon and fined $5 and costs on a charge of drinking on a train. The total of the fine and costs amounted to something over $17, and as Stillwell could not pay it he was taken to the county jail to serve out the sentence.

WANDERED TWO MONTHS.

St. Louis Boy Found at Burlington Junction—Had Enough of It and Will Never Leave Home Again.

Here is the experience of one 13-year-old boy who left home to seek his fortune:

Eight weeks ago Walker Kelly, 13 years old, whose home is at 3118 Morgan street, St. Louis, started out with a companion to seek his fortune. He returned home Saturday night weary and foot sore, but a much wiser boy.

Walker was induced by an older boy to leave his home in St. Louis, and the pair beat their way to Texas, where they wandered for several weeks seeking employment. It was a hard matter to obtain sufficient food to keep soul and body together, and the Kelly boy was deserted by his older companion. It then occurred to Walker that home was about the best place in the world, and he started north, catching a ride when he could on freight trains. At Kansas City he slipped into a box car which he thought was going to St. Louis, but when he awoke the following morning he was in Omaha.

Homesick and disheartened, Walker wandered about the city and finally stole a ride on a Wabash train going to St. Louis. The train men discovered him between Blanchard and Elmo and he was put off at the latter place. When Grant Elwood of near Elmo heard his story he gave the boy a good meal and 25 cents, telling him to come to Burlington Junction on the morning passenger train and catch the night train for St. Louis.

When the boy reached Burlington Junction he was without money and his clothes were worn threadbare. C. L. Gardner learned of his circumstances and he secured a job for young Kelly on the M. W. Staples farm, at the same time notifying the boy's relatives in St. Louis. Walker worked two days plowing corn, but he was unaccustomed to farm labor and his feet became so blistered he returned to town and stayed at the Gardner home. In the meantime Mr. Gardner had received a telegram and two letters from the St. Louis relatives, thanking him kindly for the interest he had taken in the boy. They sent him a new outfit of clothes by parcel post and wired a ticket Saturday afternoon, asking the boy to come home at once. He left for St. Louis on No. 14 that evening and was about the happiest boy imaginable at the prospect of being again at home.

Walker is glad to have his experience told to other boys, and advise them to think long and hard before leaving a comfortable home to wander afar seeking new worlds to conquer.—Burlington Junction Post.

REPORTED A STORM

HEAVY WIND FRIDAY CAUSED MUCH UNEASINESS.

FUNNEL-SHAPED CLOUD

Cyclone Cellar the Refuge of One Family—Rain, Wind and Lightning at Several Places—No Damage.

A heavy, threatening cloud passed over Maryville early this afternoon. For a time there was a hard wind with it which caused uneasiness on the part of many people who thought a bad storm was about to strike the city. The flurry soon passed over, not without doing some damage, however. A tree ten inches in diameter in the yard of N. S. DeMotte, on West Seventh street, was snapped off about ten feet above the ground. Only a short, gusty shower fell in Maryville.

Just after the shower here a report came into this office that there had been a tornado somewhere in the county. This report came from an interrupted telephone conversation on the Farmers phone. Two unknown parties were talking. One party said that a black funnel shaped cloud had just passed their place. They had gone into the cyclone cave, but the cloud had passed by without doing any damage.

The Democrat-Forum immediately called up every town in the county trying to learn whether or not a tornado had struck any place. No report of one was given. There had been heavy rains accompanied by wind and lightning in some parts of the county, but the wind had done no damage. There were rains at Clearmont, Elmo and Maitland in the western edge of the county, and also at Bedison, Conception, Ravenwood, Parnell, Pickering and Hopkins in the eastern edge.

These rains of the last few days are greatly interfering with the wheat threshing, which began this week.

The weather forecast is for probable showers tonight and Saturday.

COL. GEORGE S. FINNEY MARRIED

To Miss Clara B. Neil at Prairie du Chien, Wis., on July 9—To California.

Mrs. J. Arthur Wray was surprised Friday morning by receiving announcement of the marriage of her sister, Miss Clara B. Neil, to Colonel George S. Finney, on Wednesday, July 9, at Prairie du Chien, Wis.

The bride has been serving as deputy recorder for Nodaway county for her brother-in-law, Recorder J. Arthur Wray, since his office began, two years ago, and has been a most competent and obliging deputy. Three weeks ago she left Maryville for a vacation visit with relatives in various places, but no one thought she was contemplating any such step. Miss Neil has been a resident of Nodaway county the greater part of her life, for quite a number of years lived near Pickering, and is a woman of exceptionally fine character.

Colonel Finney has a wide acquaintance in Nodaway county. He has lived in and near Maryville for about fifteen years.

Colonel and Mrs. Finney are now on their way to California, where they will probably locate, but the place is not yet known. They always have many friends here who will wish them well.

Mr. and Mrs. George Felton of Parnell motored to Maryville Thursday and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. Q. Smith. They were accompanied to Maryville by Mrs. Lester Bennett of this city, who had been visiting at Parnell with her grandmother.

S. government several years ago to assist in organizing the islands and bringing them into some sort of a state of civilization. He reports that rapid progress is being made and much good done, both from a moral and material viewpoint. He is much interested in his work, and is an interesting talker on the curious and quaint customs of those far away people.

TICKETS FOR NEXT CHAUTAUQUA AT BARNARD IN DEMAND.

WAS SUCCESSFUL WEEK

Despite Bad Weather, Change of Location and Other Hardships—Committee Will Have a Balance.

The Barnard Chautauqua, which closed Thursday night, was a success, even if the weather did interfere to a certain extent. The opening of the chautauqua took place last Saturday evening under adverse circumstances.

The opening should have been in the afternoon, but was delayed on account of the late arrival of the tent until evening, this and a very few incredulous people at home cast a chill over the first number. Sunday afternoon and night the attendance was good, but the heavy rain of Sunday night washed out the bridge, which had recently been put across the river in order to get a road to the grounds where the annual picnic is always held, the wind storm blew down the tent, and a move had to be made to higher ground.

In order to move without going over forbidden ground a wagon had to be taken in and everything hauled to one corner and carried through a six-foot gate and loaded on a second wagon. The afternoon program was held in the Christian church, but before time for the evening program the tent had been repaired and erected on the school house grounds and everything was in readiness in first class condition.

The program for Saturday and Sunday consisted of Prof. G. A. Weaver, chalk talker, and the Hawkeye Singing Girls. Prof. Weaver hit the mark every time, every stroke of the crayon brought home a lesson, and the Hawkeye Singing Girls pleased all. Monday Dr. W. H. Bickers, the "Old Rough and Ready," spoke. Prof. Greenup furnished the music. Dr. Bickers brought a great message, every one voting him the first place as a Chautauqua speaker. Tuesday the Meneley Quartet was present. Many followed them from Graham and half of Barnard would have followed them to Minnesota had they not been so busy harvesting. They never fail to please. Wednesday Rev. Klinker of California and Prof. Fred M. Black furnished the lecture and music. Rev. L. W. Klinker was offered the ambassadorship to China. It is needless to say he brought a message. Thursday, the last day, Hon. Charles L. Hall, national secretary for the prohibition party, spoke, and Rolla Kimsey sang. Mr. Hall has the distinction of making more speeches than any other living man. After his speech Barnard did not wonder that he is called on for so many speeches, though Barnard is still wondering why he made a prohibition speech. Tuesday night 303 tickets were signed for next year and people are still signing. The plan is to hold a much larger Chautauqua, putting on the Jones Imperial Chautauqua with the Maryville Ladies band to help out.

Financially the Chautauqua was a success. The Jones system got more than the guarantee, and the local committee will have a surplus after all bills are paid. Barnard is in the habit of making things succeed.

Attended the Dinner.

Eighteen years ago Dr. Jesse Miller of this city graduated from the Kansas City Dental college. At the National Dental association being held in Kansas City this week a class reunion and dinner was held and fifteen out of the thirty-six graduates that year attended the affair, Dr. Miller being among them.

Visiting Mother and Daughter.

Mrs. Emmett Lane of Kingman, Kan., is the guest of her mother, Mrs. J. W. Shroyer, and her daughter, Miss Belle Lane, a State Normal student. Mr. Lane, who accompanied Mrs. Lane to Maryville, making the trip in their car, left for Kingman Thursday.

Mrs. R. M. Terrell of Hopkins returned home Friday from a visit with her daughter, Mrs. George E. Fleming.

A-Longin'.

I'm tired of the hurry an' the scurry of the times,
An' hearin' life a-singin' in her artificial rhymes;
I'm tuckered out a-lookin' for the good oldfashioned joys
An' never findin' nothin' but the town's allfired noise!
I'm gettin' kind o' restless for a quiet spot, I jocks,
A "gee-an'-haw" condition that you might call paradox!
I'd swap a year of strivin' jist to join hands with June
In our ol' fashioned parlor on a Sunday afternoon.

I'd like to see the fambly an' the fambly's next of kin,
An' such amongst the naybors as was used to 'droppin' in'—
The Mosier folks, Tryphoney Plumb, Serepty Ann an' May,
That wa'n't no more our Sunday friends than friends of every day;
The Saxhorne folks an' Mingers, too, an' Miss Sophreny Pease,
An' ceax her till she'd condescend to stroke the organ keys,
An' have her play the "Ryestraw" or a polky—not so good
For Sunday music, mebbe, but the kind I understood!

Or patriotic pieces that would make the rafters ring
Like "Comin' Father Abraham" an' everybody sing
Like all git out, then switch the tune an' pitch from what they was,
An' tremble off to gospel hymns that's fav'er-ites of ma's;
When gloamin' comes a-creepin' on before the lamps are lit—
The time o' night when nothin' but the silence seems to fit—
Then settle back in parlor there an' watch the shadders fade,
An' shut our noise in favor of the bullfrogs' serenade.

That's peacefulness an' quiet of a certain sort o' brand
That folks brung up in cities never seem to understand!
It's restful an' it's godly an' it's hullsome through an' through,
It's like a benediction that's a-hoverin' over you;
It's soothin' to the feelin's an' it's healin' to the heart,
An' curves nervous troubles 'less they've got too big a start!
It tones a feller's system jist to join hands with June
In some ol' fashioned parlor on a Sunday afternoon!

Faith and Service.

In climbing the upward path the staff we use is service—not the service of others to us, but our service to others.

The world's idea of service is an inverted truth. It is in reality the only badge of nobility and helps him that gives more than him that takes. The true service is that which is given for love, not hire. It may be to an individual, which is good, or to the race, which is better, for then it is multiplied.

The climbing of the path is the only success. All other achievements, if they are in the line of true success at all, are but contributory to this.

Fame, wealth, power ,place, are but opportunities for greater service, therefore aids to more rapid climbing. But while they may help us they may also hinder, for if used selfishly and not for the good of others they become weights to drag us backward.

There is much free advice nowadays on the achieving of success. Most of it is good, perhaps, at least in its intent. But it would seem that in many of the preachments on the subject the one great source of success is largely overlooked, and not only the source, but the goal, for the two are one.

Faith in God is the only true means of winning success, and to this truth all history bears witness.

Faith is not alone a sentiment. It is the most rational and actual thing in the universe. It is a positive force.

Faith heals the body and builds the character. It is as essential to business as breath is to life. It never disappoints anyone who really takes hold of it. It becomes a stay, a support and an inspiration.

It was by faith that Luther shook the world, that Lincoln ruled, that Cromwell won his battles.

Faith in God is an actual working hypothesis, the most real thing on which we can seize to lift us to success. No conspicuous triumph was ever achieved in any other way.

Trust in the Father and ask Him to show us the way; render service to others; overcome your baser passions and use your self conquests as stepping stones; make all things contributory to your soul growth, and thus you will climb forever the upward path.—James A. Edgerton.

GENERAL ASBERT.

The Governor of Havana Province Is Charged With Fatally Shooting Gen. Riva.

In a quarrel over the arrest of the porter of a political club in Havana General Armando Riva, chief of the Cuban national police, was mortally wounded. Governor Ernesto Asbert has been arrested for the shooting. Three bullets entered Riva's body, and two other persons were wounded by flying bullets.

FUNERAL OF GENERAL RIVA AT HAVANA

Another Official Marked for Death at Cuban Capital.

Havana, July 11.—Apprehension of trouble during the passage of the funeral of General Riva through the city proved groundless. Detachments of infantry, cavalary and artillery escorted the body, while other troops and police lined the route of the procession.

The Cuban secret police report the discovery of a conspiracy among the adherents of Governor Asbert to assassinate Colonel Aurelio Hevia, secretary of the interior, whom they accuse of attempting to disrupt their party by ordering the late General Armando Riva, chief of the Cuban national police, to raid the Asbert club. This action apparently precipitated the tragedy on the Prado, in which General Riva was mortally wounded.

AVERAGE CONDITION OF CROPS LOWER

Down One Per Cent July First From That Date 1912.

Washington, July 11.—Drought and early frost in certain parts of the country brought the average condition of crops in the United States, July 1, down to nearly 1 per cent lower than on the same date last year and to 1.7 lower than the average crop condition on July 1 for some years past, ten years in most cases.

Conditions are below the average, the department of agriculture announced in the Atlantic coast and north central states, except Virginia, Florida, Ohio, Wisconsin, Iowa and Nebraska. They are above average in the south central and far western states, except Kentucky, Alabama, Montana, Utah and California.

The lowest conditions are found in California, where July 1 found the crops 15.7 per cent below average. North Dakota's crops are 14.7 per cent below and South's 11.1 per cent. Wyoming is highest above average, with 9.3 per cent, followed by Nebraska, 7.7; Texas, 6.2; Washington, 5.5; Oregon, 5.2, and Iowa, 5.1 per cent.

Corn shows the most flourishing condition standing at 103.5, or 3.5 per cent above its ten-year average.

FRECKLES

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With the Othine Prescription.

This prescription for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by any first class druggist under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask your druggist for the double strength othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee.

An Interesting Meeting.

The Woman's Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church enjoyed its regular meeting this month much more than usual, owing to the extraordinarily pleasant surroundings and circumstances under which the meeting was held. The members went in cars and buggies about 11 o'clock to the home of Mrs. C. D. Leffler, west of Maryville, where they were joined by their husbands at noon for a splendid picnic luncheon on the lawn. In the afternoon the missionary program was given. The devotional service was led by Mrs. W. J. Staples. Two animated papers, one by Miss Helen Leffler on "Lumber and Mining Camp Evangelization" and the other by Mrs. S. D. INQUIRY INTO INDUSTRIAL WARS

Congress to Turn Light on Conflicts of Capital and Labor.

LOBBY COMMITTEE ON DECK.

Gompers, Mitchell and Manufacturers Subpoenaed as Witnesses—Quest May Reach Back Into McNamara Dynamiting Case.

Washington, July 11.—All the "wars" that have been fought between labor and capital, all the efforts that both have made to secure legislation which would profit them, and the tangled skein woven about their relations in the last ten years are to be investigated by congress. The senate lobby committee in executive session decided that the "wars" must be inquired into.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, will appear before the committee on July 25 and a subpoena was issuel for John Mitchell, former head of the United Mine Workers.

May Cover McNamara Case.

At the same time the committee subpoenaed George Pope and J. P. Bird, officials of the National Association of Manufacturers. As the tale is unfolded other men prominent in either labor organizations or associations of manufacturers or individual employers of labor who are brought to notice will be asked to appear. The committee decided to look into this subject, believing that it may develop startling information and knowing it will extend their inquiry many weeks. One senator said that the quest might reach back into some of the dark corners of the McNamara dynamiting case and might bring into the light the inside story of many of the great strikes that have paralyzed industries and thrown thousands out of work in the last few years. He intimated, too, that it might develop by far the most marvelous of all the strange tales that the committee has heard in the last six weeks.

Mulhall to Testify.

The committee expects to finish with its investigation of wool and sugar activities today and will take up the charges made by Martin M. Mulhall, former "lobbyist" for the National Association of Manufacturers. Mulhall will take the stand this afternoon. Thousands of letters involving many men who were once prominent in congress as well as some still in public life have been furnished the committee and his examination may take several days. The committee decided to grant a request from the association to be represented by counsel. It decided also not to turn over the Mulhall papers to the house special investigating committee until it has finished with them.

HOMEOPATHS IN SESSION

Denver Physician Cures Tuberculosis by X-Ray Treatment.

Denver, July 11.—The National Institute of Homeopathy will hold its convention in 1914 at Atlantic City, in 1915 at Portland, Ore., and in 1916 at Dresden, Germany. Announcement of the selections made in executive session was given out.

Successful treatment of tuberculosis by means of X-rays was announced by Dr. J. D. Gibson of Denver in a paper read before the National Society of Psychical Thereapeutics, a branch of the American Institute of Homeopathy. Dr. Gibson declared that he had used his treatment in more than 400 cases in the last twelve years, and had been successful with 85 per cent of the patients. He gave the assembled physicians a detailed account of his method and a description of the result obtained

SOLDIERS FIGHT FIRE

Danger in Mount Tamalpais District Almost Over.

San Francisco, July 11.—With 3,000 men of the United States army and navy and 1,000 state militiamen aiding residents of the Mount Tamalpais district in fighting the forest fire that for three days has threatened a group of suburban towns, hope of relief from impending disaster grew strong for the first time. Unless the wind changes its direction, the backfires started by soldiers, sailors and civil fans should put Mill Valley, Corte Madera and the nearby communities almost out of danger.

Omit Reports of Defeat of Federals.

Mexico City, July 11.—In none of the Mexican morning papers was the defeat published of Lieutenant Colonel Navarrete, the federal commander, by Venusiano Carranza. On the contrary, long reports contained the most optimistic information from government sources. The newspapers insist that General Maas, another federal leader, has won two slight victories over the rebels at Bajan and Reata to the south of Monclova, in the state of Coahuila.

SENATOR NORRIS ASKS INQUIRY

Commission Will Look Into New York Central Bond Deal.

CONSOLIDATION IS PROPOSED.

Exchange Will Give It Control of Lake Shore Line—Senate Passes Resolution of Nebraskan Without Debate. Latter Had Prepared Data.

Washington, July 11.—An investigation of the financial operations of the New York Central lines by the interstate commerce commission was proposed in a resolution passed by the senate. This action was taken without debate when the resolution was introduced by Senator Norris of Nebraska.

The resolution, if concurred in by the house, would direct the commission first to investigate and report upon the issue by the New York Central and Hudson River Railway company of $167,102,400 worth of 4 per cent mortgage bonds for the purpose of taking up 3 per cent Michigan Central bonds, amounting to $19,336,000; 3 per cent Lake Shore and Michigan Southern bonds, amounting to $90,578,400, and New York Central 4 per cent debenture bonds, amounting to $97,188,000.

To Report on Many Things.

The commission would be asked to report whether the issue of the 4 per cent bonds for 3½ per cents would not be unwarranted and illegal capitalization of the railroads concerned, whether the purpose of the consolidation of the New York Central, the Lake Shore and Michigan Central would not be unwarranted and unlawful, and whether the increase in interest is necessary, even if the consolidation is unobjectionable.

Senator Norris was prepared to address the senate in support of his resolution. He did not do so because no one opposed it.

Prepares Data.

He had prepared data which he declared showed that the 3½ per cent bonds in question do not expire for eighty-five years and that the exchange of 4 per cents for 3½ per cents, dollar for dollar, would saddle onto the lines as an additional permanent debt, upon which shippers must pay rates, the equivalent to $46,713,620. He was prepared to call attention to the recent request of the New York Central upon the commission to be allowed to increase freight rates and had figures to show that the fixed charges of the New York Central amounted to 39 per cent of the road's income, as compared with about 26 per cent for the Union Pacific and 29 per cent for the Pennsylvania.

DAWSON CHOSEN PRESIDENT

Charleston, S. C., July 11.—John S. Dawson, attorney general of Kansas, was elected president of the National Association of Attorneys General, which closed its annual convention here. Other officers are:

The association will meet next year at the place and date chosen by the American Bar association for its annual convention. Thirty states were represented at the meeting.

BIG CAVE FOUND IN WYOMING

Contains Immense Rooms and a Number of Cross Passages.

Sheridan Wyo., July 11.—A third mammoth cave has been discovered in the Big Horn. A party composed of C. H. Lamb of Story, Lieutenant Philip Hayes of the Eighteenth infantry, Mrs. A. R. Clinton of Fort Mackenzie and Miss Mildred Massey of Sheridan is credited with having made the first exploration. They traversed its winding passageways for a distance of 1,000 feet without reaching the end. The cave contains immense rooms and a number of cross passages, which were not explored. Large stalactites and stalagmites were found. The cave is situated above Story, twenty miles south of Sheridan, and is easy of access.

Manchester Headquarters Raided.

Manchester, England, July 11.—The police raided the headquarters of the Women's Social and Political union here and seized everything they could find, but no arrests were made. Since the disorganization of the militant society's offices in London most of the operations have been engineered from here. All the known militants have been under the strictest surveillance for some time in view of the visit of King George to this city July 14.

Portland Trust Company to Liquidate.

Portland, Ore., July 11.—The First Trust company of Portland closed its doors and asked for the appointment of a receiver. The refusal of the state commissioner to issue it a permit under a new law that requires trust companies to have a capital of $100,000 is said to have been the cause of the company's decision to liquidate. Officials said creditors would be paid in full.

Went to Burlington Junction.

A party composed of E. E. Williams, Dr. Frank Wallis, Joseph Reese, C. C. Hellmers and F. L. Flynt went to Burlington Junction Thursday night in the Williams car to attend the Masonic lodge there.

Women in Officialdom.

Mrs. Fred A. Britten, wife of the Chicago congressman, is one of the most beautiful and vivacious matrons of Washington. She is an expert driver of high powered automobiles.

Mrs. Richard Bartholdt of St. Louis, who has been in poor health for some time is now in Europe, where she will be given the benefit of nerve strengthening baths.

Miss Alice O'Gorman, daughter of the Democratic New York senator, is becoming a social leader in Washington. Her sister, Miss Dolorita O'Gorman, was married last May to John Anthony Maher, a New York broker.

Mrs. William P. Borland, wife of the Missouri congressman, recently adopted two baby girls. Shortly after adopting the youngsters they developed measles, and Mrs. Borland has become ill through her tireless nursing.

Miss Eleanor Wilson, daughter of the president, sets the styles in hats in Washington, just as Mrs. Longworth used to when she was Alice Roosevelt. She trims them all herself, and is said to have a deft touch that would make a real milliner green with envy.

Mrs. Charles R. Crisp, wife of the new congressman from Georgia, is one of the handsomest young women in the congressional set. She is a southerner, but has spent much time in Washington, where her husband was parliamentarian in the house of representatives before he was elected to membership.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson is taking a great interest in the question of the slums of Washington. Recently she sent a great many flowers to the alley homes that she had visited, her card being attached. Mrs. John Hay, wife of the former secretary, is honorary president of the Washington branch of the National Fruit and Flower Guild.

Mrs. Joseph T. Robinson, wife of the new senator from Arkansas, had an important part in aiding her husband to attain his present high position. In one month he had the unique distinction of being a representative, governor of his state and a senator. Mrs. Robinson was her husband's campaign manager.

The Southern society of Washington makes a wife eligible if her husband is, and a husband may come into the society through his wife. In fact, the family is not to be divided where membership is concerned. Whether it is to be simply a family affair, with no old maids or bachelors eligible has not been made clear.

Administration women at Washington are not simply society women, but most of them go in for some work for the elevation of women and the good of mankind The work of Mrs. Wilson and her daughters is well known, and Mrs. Marshall, wife of the vice president, is very much interested, among other things, in the work of the Young Woman's Christian association. Recently she was elected honorary president of the Washington organization.

IT'S A MISTAKE.

Made by Many Maryville Residents.

Many people in a misguided effort to get rid of kidney backacne, rely on plasters, liniments and other makeshifts. The right treatment is kidney treatment and a remarkably recommended kidney medicine is Doan's Kidney Pills. Maryville is no exception.

The proof is at your very door. The following is an experience typical of the work of Doan's Kidney Pills in Maryville.

J. A. Murphy, 805 East Fourth street, Maryville, Mo., says: "Some years ago I publicly recommended Doan's Kidney Pills, and I am just as strong in my praise of them now as I was then. I got my first box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Love & Gaugh's drug store, and I do not hesitate to say that they are very reliable in curing kidney trouble and lame back."

BROOKLYN TABERNACLE BIBLE STUDY ON

GOD'S INSTRUMENT IN PREPARATION.

Exodus 2:11:25.—July 13.

"Blessed are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth."—Matthew 5:5.

THE education of Moses is briefly summed up in the Biblical statement that he "was learned in all the wisdom of the Egyptians." Legend tells us something of his schooling in the philosophies of that time, and declares that he was a successful Egyptian general; but it is for us to follow the Bible account. The time was nearing when God intended to bring the Israelites out of Egypt into the Land of Promise—an illustration of the still more wonderful deliverance by the Greater than Moses, which now is nearing.

God's providences may be noted in respect to the experiences of Moses, who is credited by the Lord with having been "the meekest man in all the earth." God wanted a meek man for the important position which He intended Moses to fill. Moses' lessons and experiences helped to make him meek. Who cannot see that, if he had been proud and arrogant, he would have been unfit for the duties and responsibilities devolving upon him as leader of his people? Perhaps no man had a more difficult task than that represented in Moses' forty years with Israel in the wilderness. We may be sure that he was prepared for the ordeal only by the experiences of the preceding eighty years of his life.

Moses Threw Himself into the Scuffle.

The adopted son of the Egyptian princess, Moses must have been a court favorite, and in danger of cultivating pride and arrogance. As an offset, he had continually before him the fact that his features were Jewish, and that thus every one had knowledge of his identity with the despised and oppressed people. The tendency would naturally be toward one of two courses: Either he would seek to ignore the Hebrews and to become more and more identified with the Egyptians, or else he would exercise faith in the special promises of which his people were heirs as children of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.

St. Paul notes that Moses was a victor in this test. He chose to suffer affliction with the people of God rather than to enjoy the honors which might have been his as an adopted member of the royal family. (Hebrews 11:24-26.) To Moses the Promise which God made to Abraham, and repeated to Isaac and Jacob, and which still awaits fulfilment, was more to be desired than all the riches and honors of earth.

Moses Discouraged, Heartbroken.

Trusting in the Lord's Promise, Moses believed that the time had come for the deliverance of the Israelites from bondage. He knew well of his miraculous preservation, and had the assurance of God's Promise that this signified that God had a special work for him to do. He was anxious to begin that work. He knew not of his own unreadiness—that he would require forty years more of special schooling.

An occasion to show his zeal for his brethren came when he saw an Egyptian abusing one of them. Moses threw himself into the scuffle. The Egyptian was killed. Moses perceived that none of the Egyptians knew of the matter, so he quietly buried the victim in the sand. He doubted not that his brethren would realize that he was their friend and defender, and would look to him with confidence as their leader, when God's providence would open the door for them to leave Egypt.

But all his dreams faded when, next day, he perceived that there was no such loyalty among his brethren, and that they were ready to deliver him to the Egyptian authorities. Thoroughly discouraged and fearing for his life, Moses fled to the wilderness of Midian. It looked as though all his education and development had gone to waste.

Moses Jethro's Shepherd.

As the fugitive sat upon the casing of a well, shepherds brought their flocks for water. Amongst the sheep tenders were Jethro's daughters, and opposing them some ungallant shepherds, who hindered them. Moses took their part, and drew water for their flocks. Incidentally he walked with them toward their home. Jethro was appreciative of the stranger, who did not disclose his identity. Moses was thoroughly crestfallen, meek, teachable.

"Moses Helped Them."

Moses married one of Jethro's daughters and continued to be a shepherd for forty years. He did not at the time understand the Lord's providences in his affairs; but he was all those years learning a most important lesson of meekness, of full submission to the Divine will. When the lesson had been learned, God's time had come to put His thus doubly educated servant into a most important place, for which he never could have been qualified without just such experiences.

God's dealings with Moses illustrate the general principles of His dealing with all those whom He would use in special service.

A CHILD'S JUDGE

PROBATE JUDGE HAS CHARGE OF PETTY OFFENDERS.

CRAWFORD IS OFFICER

Neglected and Delinquent Children Will Now Be Cared for By State—Best Keep Them Off Streets.

Probate Judge W. H. Conn is now judge of the juvenile court in addition to his duties in the probate court, but he has not yet opened his new court. The recent legislature adopted the juvenile court law.

Judge Conn has selected W. H. Crawford as probation officer of the court. If necessary for the adequate care and protection of the children under the jurisdiction of the court, the court may also appoint one or more deputy probation officers to be paid for their services out of the funds of the county. The court may also appoint voluntary probation officers to serve without compensation.

The juvenile court has charge of all neglected or delinquent children under the age of 17 years, excepting those who have been convicted of a capital offense. When such a jurisdiction is obtained over a child it shall last until the child reaches its majority. The statute minutely defines the words neglected and delinquent, and under the delinquent list is included nearly all the petty misdemeanors and crimes, such as jumping trains, remaining away from home at night, profane language in public places and similar offenses. The words "neglected child" shall mean any child under the age of seventeen years, who is destitute or homeless or abandoned, or dependent upon the public for support, or who habitually begs or receives alms, or who is suffering from cruelty or depravity of its parents, or other persons in whose care it may be, and any child who, while under the age of 10 years, is found peddling or selling any articles or singing or playing any musical instrument for gain on the streets or in public.

Any reputable person, being a resident of the county, having knowledge or information of a child who appears to be neglected or delinquent, may file a petition in writing, setting forth the facts, verified by affidavit, with the clerk of the probate court. Upon the filing of the petition, unless the parties shall voluntarily appear or be in court, a summons shall be issued in the name of the state, requiring the child and the person having custody or control of the child or with whom the child may be, to appear. If any person summoned shall fail to appear without reasonable cause and abide the order of the court, or to bring the child, such person may be proceeded against as in the case of contempt of court. If there is no person in charge or care of the child, the court may order the sheriff to take control.

Witnesses may be summoned and testimony taken as to the habits, surroundings, condition and tendencies of said child.

The county court is to provide a place or places of detention for children coming within the provisions of this law, and such place or places shall be separate and apart from places in which are confined adults convicted or under arrest, and the court may arrange with any incorporated society maintaining a suitable place for detention for children in the county or with suitable families, provided the payment for the care of such child to any incorporated society or family shall not exceed a rate of $4 a week.

Whenever there is to be a child brought before the court, the clerk of the court shall notify the probation officer. He shall make such investigation of the child as may be required by the court and be present in court at the hearings of all cases, to take charge of any child before and after hearing. The probation officer shall receive a salary, not exceeding $1,000.

FIRST DEFEAT FOR THEM.

The First Methodists Beaten by the Baptists in Sunday School Ball League Game.

After a straight run of victories, five of them, the First Methodists tasted the initial defeat of the season Thursday afternoon when the Baptists took the long end of an 8 to 2 score in the ball game at the Normal grounds.

Conley pitched his usual good game for the Baptists, and, for about the first time of the season, was well supported by his teammates. He held the Methodists to four hits and two runs, while his fellows clouted the ball to safe territory ten times. Allen on third base made the only errors, four of them, but they were not costly. McCampbell in left field played a brilliant game for the Baptists, taking four hard chances and making four putouts.

The Methodists played a loose game. Simmons was hit hard, and nine errors were made behind him.

Two more Sunday school league games will be played Saturday afternoon. The first one at 2:30 o'clock will be between the Presbyterians and Baptists. The second at 4:30 o'clock will be played by the Buchanan Street Methodists and Christians.

The standing of the teams now is:

A BAN ON CHAUTAUQUA SALUTE.

Handkerchief Waving is Means of Spreading Tuberculosis, Doctor Says.

Down with the Chautauqua salute! It may look very pretty to see thousands of fluttering handkerchiefs waving a greeting, but it is not sanitary.

So says Dr. E. Arthur Carr, president of the state medical board of Nebraska, and so think two hundred homeopathic physicians who heard Dr. Carr condemn the Chautauqua salute Wednesday at Denver, Col., day before the meeting of the American Institute of Homeopathy.

Dr. Carr says he has prepared a bill, making the giving of the salute a criminal offense, and that he will introduce it in the Nebraska legislature. He urges that a similar bill be passed in Colorado.

"The salute is one of the most dangerous means of spreading tuberculosis germs," said Dr. Carr. "If the people must have something, I intend to put a clause in my bill making that something a small silk American flag."

SEVEN-HEADED WHEAT.

George Murray of Skidmore is Growing a New Kind of Wheat to Give a Trial Here.

According to the Skidmore New Era George W. Murray of Skidmore brought to that office a few days ago several heads of a new kind of wheat which he has growing in his garden. The peculiarity of this wheat, like the Grecian sea serpent, is, it is hydra headed, but unlike this fabled sea monster, when you cut one of these heads off, two will not come in its place.

Mr. Murray got the seed from which this wheat grew from his farm, near Egbert, Wyoming. It came from Montana to that state, and is raised extensively in the northwest. It is a spring wheat, very hardy and very productive, and has been known to yield in Montana as high as seventy bushels to the acre.

Its striking peculiarity, as we said above, is its plurality of heads. It has one head growing out from the end of the stem, as ordinary wheat, then on either side of this head are three smaller heads, making seven on one straw, hence the name, "seven-headed wheat."

The Bible reader might see in this wheat Pharoah's seven fat ears rising up out of the sea, and if it proves as productive all over the wheat growing country as it has in the northwest, it might mean not only seven years of plenty to the bread eaters of the world. Anyway, Mr. Murray is going to give it a trial in Missouri and see what it will do. It has a nice plump berry and he thinks there should be more grains grow on seven heads than on one.

In Jail for Drinking on Train.

The total of the fine and costs amounted to something over $17, and as Stillwell could not pay it he was taken to the county jail to serve out the sentence.

WANDERED TWO MONTHS.

St. Louis Boy Found at Burlington Junction—Had Enough of It and Will Never Leave Home Again.

Here is the experience of one 13-year-old boy who left home to seek his fortune:

Eight weeks ago Walker Kelly, 13 years old, whose home is at 3118 Morgan street, St. Louis, started out with a companion to seek his fortune. He returned home Saturday night weary and foot sore, but a much wiser boy.

Walker was induced by an older boy to leave his home in St. Louis, and the pair beat their way to Texas, where they wandered for several weeks seeking employment. It was a hard matter to obtain sufficient food to keep soul and body together, and the Kelly boy was deserted by his older companion. It then occurred to Walker that home was about the best place in the world, and he started north, catching a ride when he could on freight trains. At Kansas City he slipped into a box car which he thought was going to St. Louis, but when he awoke the following morning he was in Omaha.

Homesick and disheartened, Walker wandered about the city and finally stole a ride on a Wabash train going to St. Louis. The train men discovered him between Blanchard and Elmo and he was put off at the latter place. When Grant Elwood of near Elmo heard his story he gave the boy a good meal and 25 cents, telling him to come to Burlington Junction on the morning passenger train and catch the night train for St. Louis.

When the boy reached Burlington Junction he was without money and his clothes were worn threadbare. C. L. Gardner learned of his circumstances and he secured a job for young Kelly on the M. W. Staples farm, at the same time notifying the boy's relatives in St. Louis. Walker worked two days plowing corn, but he was unaccustomed to farm labor and his feet became so blistered he returned to town and stayed at the Gardner home. In the meantime Mr. Gardner had received a telegram and two letters from the St. Louis relatives, thanking him kindly for the interest he had taken in the boy. They sent him a new outfit of clothes by parcel post and wired a ticket Saturday afternoon, asking the boy to come home at once. He left for St. Louis on No. 14 that evening and was about the happiest boy imaginable at the prospect of being again at home.

Walker is glad to have his experience told to other boys, and advise them to think long and hard before leaving a comfortable home to wander afar seeking new worlds to conquer.—Burlington Junction Post.

For a time there was a hard wind with it which caused uneasiness on the part of many people who thought a bad storm was about to strike the city. The flurry soon passed over, not without doing some damage, however. A tree ten inches in diameter in the yard of N. S. DeMotte, on West Seventh street, was snapped off about ten feet above the ground. Only a short, gusty shower fell in Maryville.

Just after the shower here a report came into this office that there had been a tornado somewhere in the county. This report came from an interrupted telephone conversation on the Farmers phone. Two unknown parties were talking. One party said that a black funnel shaped cloud had just passed their place. They had gone into the cyclone cave, but the cloud had passed by without doing any damage.

The Democrat-Forum immediately called up every town in the county trying to learn whether or not a tornado had struck any place. No report of one was given. There had been heavy rains accompanied by wind and lightning in some parts of the county, but the wind had done no damage. There were rains at Clearmont, Elmo and Maitland in the western edge of the county, and also at Bedison, Conception, Ravenwood, Parnell, Pickering and Hopkins in the eastern edge.

These rains of the last few days are greatly interfering with the wheat threshing, which began this week.

The weather forecast is for probable showers tonight and Saturday.

COL. GEORGE S. FINNEY MARRIED

To Miss Clara B. Neil at Prairie du Chien, Wis., on July 9—To California.

Mrs. J. Arthur Wray was surprised Friday morning by receiving announcement of the marriage of her sister, Miss Clara B. Neil, to Colonel George S. Finney, on Wednesday, July 9, at Prairie du Chien, Wis.

The bride has been serving as deputy recorder for Nodaway county for her brother-in-law, Recorder J. Arthur Wray, since his office began, two years ago, and has been a most competent and obliging deputy. Three weeks ago she left Maryville for a vacation visit with relatives in various places, but no one thought she was contemplating any such step. Miss Neil has been a resident of Nodaway county the greater part of her life, for quite a number of years lived near Pickering, and is a woman of exceptionally fine character.

Colonel Finney has a wide acquaintance in Nodaway county. He has lived in and near Maryville for about fifteen years.

Colonel and Mrs. Finney are now on their way to California, where they will probably locate, but the place is not yet known. They always have many friends here who will wish them well.

Mr. and Mrs. George Felton of Parnell motored to Maryville Thursday and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. Q. Smith. They were accompanied to Maryville by Mrs. Lester Bennett of this city, who had been visiting at Parnell with her grandmother.

Mrs. M. A. Nicholas and daughter returned Friday from a two weeks' visit with Wilson Nicholas at Vista, Mo., and other relatives in St. Joseph.

Mrs. Edna Garrett of Union Star returned home Friday from a visit with Mrs. Walter Combs and Mrs. J. E. Croy.

Miss Myrtle Eckles went to St. Joseph Friday morning to spend the week end with Miss Grace McAnulty.

A marriage license was issued in St. Joseph Thursday to Earl D. Spicer and Osil Mae Bowlin, both of Conception.

Newell Staples of Burlington Junction came to Maryville Friday in his new automobile, an American Six.

Marvin Curnutt of Omaha came to town Friday on a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Z. Curnutt.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wachtel and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wachtel of Graham were city visitors Friday.

Miss Rose Frazee returned Friday from a visit in Barnard with her aunt, Mrs. I. C. Roelofson.

Claude Russell and Mrs. Russell left Elmo this week for the Philippines to resume his duties as a civil engineer under the Filipino government.

Mr. Russell's station is at Cebu, one of the larger cities of the islands, on the island of Cebu. He has been in the islands for several years, and is one of the young men sent out by the U. S. government several years ago to assist in organizing the islands and bringing them into some sort of a state of civilization. He reports that rapid progress is being made and much good done, both from a moral and material viewpoint. He is much interested in his work, and is an interesting talker on the curious and quaint customs of those far away people.

Home From Colorado.

Mrs. M. M. Rittenour returned Friday noon from Denver, Col., where she has been with her invalid mother, Mrs. Rachel Jones, at the home of her sister, Mrs. E. S. Dodds. Mrs. Rittenour and Mrs. J. F. Montgomery were called to Denver fourteen weeks ago by the critical illness of their mother, and Mrs. Rittenour remained until now. Mrs. Jones is thought out of danger for the present. Mrs. Montgomery was in Denver several weeks.

TICKETS FOR NEXT CHAUTAUQUA AT BARNARD IN DEMAND.

WAS SUCCESSFUL WEEK

Despite Bad Weather, Change of Location and Other Hardships—Committee Will Have a Balance.

The Barnard Chautauqua, which closed Thursday night, was a success, even if the weather did interfere to a certain extent. The opening of the chautauqua took place last Saturday evening under adverse circumstances.

The opening should have been in the afternoon, but was delayed on account of the late arrival of the tent until evening, this and a very few incredulous people at home cast a chill over the first number. Sunday afternoon and night the attendance was good, but the heavy rain of Sunday night washed out the bridge, which had recently been put across the river in order to get a road to the grounds where the annual picnic is always held, the wind storm blew down the tent, and a move had to be made to higher ground.

In order to move without going over forbidden ground a wagon had to be taken in and everything hauled to one corner and carried through a six-foot gate and loaded on a second wagon. The afternoon program was held in the Christian church, but before time for the evening program the tent had been repaired and erected on the school house grounds and everyting was in readiness in first class condition.

The program for Saturday and Sunday consisted of Prof. G. A. Weaver, chalk talker, and the Hawkeye Singing Girls. Prof. Weaver hit the mark every time, every stroke of the crayon brought home a lesson, and the Hawkeye Singing Girls pleased all. Monday Dr. W. H. Bickers, the "Old Rough and Ready," spoke. Prof. Greenup furnished the music. Dr. Bickers brought a great message, every one voting him the first place as a Chautauqua speaker. Tuesday the Meneley Quartet was present. Many followed them from Graham and half of Barnard would have followed them to Minnesota had they not been so busy harvesting. They never fail to please. Wednesday Rev. Klinker of California and Prof. Fred M. Black furnished the lecture and music. Rev. L. W. Klinker was offered the ambassadorship to China. It is needless to say he brought a message. Thursday, the last day, Hon. Charles L. Hall, national secretary for the prohibition party, spoke, and Rolla Kimsey sang. Mr. Hall has the distinction of making more speeches than any other living man. After his speech Barnard did not wonder that he is called on for so many speeches, though Barnard is still wondering why he made a prohibition speech. Tuesday night 303 tickets were signed for next year and people are still signing. The plan is to hold a much larger Chautauqua, putting on the Jones Imperial Chautauqua with the Maryville Ladies band to help out.

Financially the Chautauqua was a success. The Jones system got more than the guarantee, and the local committee will have a surplus after all bills are paid. Barnard is in the habit of making things succeed.

Attended the Dinner.

Eighteen years ago Dr. Jesse Miller of this city graduated from the Kansas City Dental college. At the National Dental association being held in Kansas City this week a class reunion and dinner was held and fifteen out of the thirty-six graduates that year attended the affair, Dr. Miller being among them.

Mrs. R. M. Terrell of Hopkins returned home Friday from a visit with her daughter, Mrs. George E. Fleming.

A-Longin'.

I'm tired of the hurry an' the scurry of the times,
An' hearin' life a-singin' in her artificial rhymes;
I'm tuckered out a-lookin' for the good oldfashioned joys
An' never findin' nothin' but the town's allfired noise!
I'm gettin' kind o' restless for a quiet spot, I jocks,
A "gee-an'-haw" condition that you might call paradox!
I'd swap a year of strivin' jist to join hands with June
In our ol' fashioned parlor on a Sunday afternoon.

I'd like to see the fambly an' the fambly's next of kin,
An' such amongst the naybors as was used to 'droppin' in'—
The Mosier folks, Tryphoney Plumb, Serepty Ann an' May,
That wa'n't no more our Sunday friends than friends of every day;
The Saxhorne folks an' Mingers, too, an' Miss Sophreny Pease,
An' coax her till she'd condescend to stroke the organ keys,
An' have her play the "Ryestraw" or a polky—not so good
For Sunday music, mebbe, but the kind I understood!

Or patriotic pieces that would make the rafters ring
Like "Comin' Father Abraham" an' everybody sing
Like all git out, then switch the tune an' pitch from what they was,
An' tremble off to gospel hymns that's fav'rites of ma's;
When gloamin' comes a-creepin' on before the lamps are lit—
The time o' night when nothin' but the silence seems to fit—
Then settle back in parlor there an' watch the shadders fade,
An' shut our noise in favor of the bullfrogs' serenade.

That's peacefulness an' quiet of a certain sort o' brand
That folks brung up in cities never seem to understand!
It's restful an' it's godly an' it's hullsome through an' through,
It's like a benediction that's a-hoverin' over you;
It's soothin' to the feelin's an' it's healin' to the heart,
An' curves nervous troubles 'less they've got too big a start!
It tones a feller's system jist to join hands with June
In some ol' fashioned parlor on a Sunday afternoon!

Faith and Service.

In climbing the upward path the staff we use is service—not the service of others to us, but our service to others.

The world's idea of service is an inverted truth. It is in reality the only badge of nobility and helps him that gives more than him that takes. The true service is that which is given for love, not hire. It may be to an individual, which is good, or to the race, which is better, for then it is multiplied.

The climbing of the path is the only success. All other achievements, if they are in the line of true success at all, are but contributory to this.

Fame, wealth, power ,place, are but opportunities for greater service, therefore aids to more rapid climbing. But while they may help us they may also hinder, for if used selfishly and not for the good of others they become weights to drag us backward.

There is much free advice nowadays on the achieving of success. Most of it is good, perhaps, at least in its intent. But it would seem that in many of the preachments on the subject the one great source of success is largely overlooked, and not only the source, but the goal, for the two are one.

Faith in God is the only true means of winning success, and to this truth all history bears witness.

Faith is not alone a sentiment. It is the most rational and actual thing in the universe. It is a positive force.

Faith heals the body and builds the character. It is as essential to business as breath is to life. It never disappoints anyone who really takes hold of it. It becomes a stay, a support and an inspiration.

It was by faith that Luther shook the world, that Lincoln ruled, that Cromwell won his battles.

Faith in God is an actual working hypothesis, the most real thing on which we can seize to lift us to success. No conspicuous triumph was ever achieved in any other way.

Trust in the Father and ask Him to show us the way; render service to others; overcome your baser passions and use your self conquests as stepping stones; make all things contributory to your soul growth, and thus you will climb forever the upward path.—James A. Edgerton.

GENERAL ASBERT.

The Governor of Havana Province is Charged With Fatally Shooting Gen. Riva.

In a quarrel over the arrest of the porter of a political club in Havana General Armando Riva, chief of the Cuban national police, was mortally wounded. Governor Ernesto Asbert has been arrested for the shooting. Three bullets entered Riva's body, and two other persons were wounded by flying bullets.

FUNERAL OF GENERAL RIVA AT HAVANA

Another Official Marked for Death at Cuban Capital.

Havana, July 11.—Apprehension of trouble during the passage of the funeral of General Riva through the city proved groundless. Detachments of infantry, cavalary and artillery escorted the body, while other troops and police lined the route of the procession.

The Cuban secret police report the discovery of a conspiracy among the adherents of Governor Asbert to assassinate Colonel Aurelio Hevia, secretary of the interior, whom they accuse of attempting to disrupt their party by ordering the late General Armando Riva, chief of the Cuban national police, to raid the Asbert club. This action apparently precipitated the tragedy on the Prado, in which General Riva was mortally wounded.

Former Warden of Sing Sing Indicted.

White Plains, N. Y., July 11.—John S. Kennedy, former warden of Sing Sing prison, was indicted by the grand jury. The charges were not made public pending his arrest.

AVERAGE CONDITION OF CROPS LOWER

Down One Per Cent July First From That Date 1912.

Washington, July 11.—Drought and early frost in certain parts of the country brought the average condition of crops in the United States, July 1, down to nearly 1 per cent lower than on the same date last year and to 1.7 lower than the average crop condition on July 1 for some years past, ten years in most cases.

Conditions are below the average, the department of agriculture announced in the Atlantic coast and north central states, except Virginia, Florida, Ohio, Wisconsin, Iowa and Nebraska. They are above average in the south central and far western states, except Kentucky, Alabama, Montana, Utah and California.

The lowest conditions are found in California, where July 1 found the crops 15.7 per cent below average. North Dakota's crops are 14.7 per cent below and South's 11.1 per cent. Wyoming is highest above average, with 9.3 per cent, followed by Nebraska, 7.7; Texas, 6.2; Washington, 5.5; Oregon, 5.2, and Iowa, 5.1 per cent.

Corn shows the most flourishing condition standing at 103.5, or 3.5 per cent above its ten-year average.

An Interesting Meeting.

The Woman's Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church enjoyed its regular meeting this month much more than usual, owing to the extraordinarily pleasant surroundings and circumstances under which the meeting was held. The members went in cars and buggies about 11 o'clock to the home of Mrs. C. D. Leffler, west of Maryville, where they were joined by their husbands at noon for a splendid picnic luncheon on the lawn. In the afternoon the missionary program was given. The devotional service was led by Mrs. W. J. Staples. Two animated papers, one by Miss Helen Leffler on "Lumber and Mining Camp Evangelization" and the other by Mrs. S. D. Harkness on "The Special Object for Which We Work" brought out some interesting facts and discussion. The company returned home about 5 o'clock.

Mrs. C. C. Young and children were in Maryville Friday in their car. They had been to St. Joseph and stopped off here on their way to their home in Creston, Ia.

INQUIRY INTO INDUSTRIAL WARS

Congress to Turn Light on Conflicts of Capital and Labor.

LOBBY COMMITTEE ON DECK.

Gompers, Mitchell and Manufacturers Subpoenaed as Witnesses—Quest May Reach Back Into McNamara Dynamiting Case.

Washington, July 11.—All the "wars" that have been fought between labor and capital, all the efforts that both have made to secure legislation which would profit them, and the tangled skein woven about their relations in the last ten years are to be investigated by congress. The senate lobby committee in executive session decided that the "wars" must be inquired into.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, will appear before the committee on July 25 and a subpoena was issuel for John Mitchell, former head of the United Mine Workers.

May Cover McNamara Case.

At the same time the committee subpoenaed George Pope and J. P. Bird, officials of the National Association of Manufacturers. As the tale is unfolded other men prominent in either labor organizations or associations of manufacturers or individual employers of labor who are brought to notice will be asked to appear. The committee decided to look into this subject, believing that it may develop startling information and knowing it will extend their inquiry many weeks. One senator said that the quest might reach back into some of the dark corners of the McNamara dynamiting case and might bring into the light the inside story of many of the great strikes that have paralyzed industries and thrown thousands out of work in the last few years. He intimated, too, that it might develop by far the most marvelous of all the strange tales that the committee has heard in the last six weeks.

Mulhall to Testify.

The committee expects to finish with its investigation of wool and sugar activities today and will take up the charges made by Martin M. Mulhall, former "lobbyist" for the National Association of Manufacturers. Mulhall will take the stand this afternoon. Thousands of letters involving many men who were once prominent in congress as well as some still in public life have been furnished the committee and his examination may take several days. The committee decided to grant a request from the association to be represented by counsel. It decided also not to turn over the Mulhall papers to the house special investigating committee until it has finished with them.

HOMEOPATHS IN SESSION

Denver Physician Cures Tuberculosis by X-Ray Treatment.

Denver, July 11.—The National Institute of Homeopathy will hold its convention in 1914 at Atlantic City, in 1915 at Portland, Ore., and in 1916 at Dresden, Germany. Announcement of the selections made in executive session was given out.

Successful treatment of tuberculosis by means of X rays was announced by Dr. J. D. Gibson of Denver in a paper read before the National Society of Psychical Thereapeutics, a branch of the American Institute of Homeopathy. Dr. Gibson declared that he had used his treatment in more than 400 cases in the last twelve years, and had been successful with 85 per cent of the patients. He gave the assembled physicians a detailed account of his method and a description of the result obtained.

SOLDIERS FIGHT FIRE

Danger in Mount Tamalpais District Almost Over.

San Francisco, July 11.—With 3,000 men of the United States army and navy and 1,000 state militiamen aiding residents of the Mount Tamalpais district in fighting the forest fire that for three days has threatened a group of suburban towns, hope of relief from impending disaster grew strong for the first time. Unless the wind changes its direction, the backfires started by soldiers, sailors and civilians should put Mill Valley, Corte Madera and the nearby communities almost out of danger.

Omit Reports of Defeat of Federals.

Mexico City, July 11.—In none of the Mexican morning papers was the defeat published of Lieutenant Colonel Navarrete, the federal commander, by Venusiano Carranza. On the contrary, long reports contained the most optimistic information from government sources. The newspapers insist that General Maas, another federal leader, has won two slight victories over the rebels at Bajan and Reata to the south of Monclova, in the state of Coahuila.

SENATOR NORRIS ASKS INQUIRY

Commission Will Look Into New York Central Bond Deal.

CONSOLIDATION IS PROPOSED.

Exchange Will Give It Control of Lake Shore Line—Senate Passes Resolution of Nebraskan Without Debate. Latter Had Prepared Data.

Washington, July 11.—An investigation of the financial operations of the New York Central lines by the interstate commerce commission was proposed in a resolution passed by the senate. This action was taken without debate when the resolution was introduced by Senator Norris of Nebraska.

The resolution, if concurred in by the house, would direct the commission first to investigate and report upon the issue by the New York Central and Hudson River Railway company of $167,102,400 worth of 4 per cent mortgage bonds for the purpose of taking up 3 per cent Michigan Central bonds, amounting to $19,336,000; 3 per cent Lake Shore and Michigan Southern bonds, amounting to $90,578,400, and New York Central 4 per cent debenture bonds, amounting to $97,188,000.

To Report on Many Things.

The commission would be asked to report whether the issue of the 4 per cent bonds for 3½ per cents would not be unwarranted and illegal capitalization of the railroads concerned, whether the purpose of the consolidation of the New York Central, the Lake Shore and Michigan Central would not be unwarranted and unlawful, and whether the increase in interest is necessary, even if the consolidation is unobjectionable.

Senator Norris was prepared to address the senate in support of his resolution. He did not do so because no one opposed it.

Prepares Data.

He had prepared data which he declared showed that the 3½ per cent bonds in question do not expire for eighty-five years and that the exchange of 4 per cents for 3½ per cents, dollar for dollar, would saddle onto the lines as an additional permanent debt, upon which shippers must pay rates, the equivalent to $46,713,620. He was prepared to call attention to the recent request of the New York Central upon the commission to be allowed to increase freight rates and had figures to show that the fixed charges of the New York Central amounted to 39 per cent of the road's income, as compared with about 26 per cent for the Union Pacific and 29 per cent for the Pennsylvania.

DAWSON CHOSEN PRESIDENT

Charleston, S. C., July 11.—John S. Dawson, attorney general of Kansas, was elected president of the National Association of Attorneys General, which closed its annual convention here. Other officers are:

Vice president, John H. Light of Connecticut; secretary, Royal C. Johnson of Oklahoma; members of executive committee, Grant G. Martin of Nebraska, chairman; Charles West of Oklahoma, George Cosson of Iowa and James Tanner of Washington.

The association will meet next year at the place and date chosen by the American Bar association for its annual convention. Thirty states were represented at the meeting.

BIG CAVE FOUND IN WYOMING

Contains Immense Rooms and a Number of Cross Passages.

Sheridan, Wyo., July 11.—A third mammoth cave has been discovered in the Big Horn. A party composed of C. H. Lamb of Story, Lieutenant Philip Hayes of the Eighteenth infantry, Mrs. A. R. Clinton of Fort Mackenzie and Miss Mildred Massey of Sheridan is credited with having made the first exploration. They traversed its winding passageways for a distance of 1,000 feet without reaching the end. The cave contains immense rooms and a number of cross passages, which were not explored. Large stalactites and stalagmites were found. The cave is situated above Story, twenty miles south of Sheridan, and is easy of access.

Manchester Headquarters Raided.

Manchester, England, July 11.—The police raided the headquarters of the Women's Social and Political union here and seized everything they could find, but no arrests were made. Since the disorganization of the militant society's offices in London most of the operations have been engineered from here. All the known militants have been under the strictest surveillance for some time in view of the visit of King George to this city July 14.

Portland Trust Company to Liquidate.

Portland, Ore., July 11.—The First Trust company of Portland closed its doors and asked for the appointment of a receiver. The refusal of the state commissioner to issue it a permit under a new law that requires trust companies to have a capital of $100,000 is said to have been the cause of the company's decision to liquidate. Officials said creditors would be paid in full.

Went to Burlington Junction.

A party composed of E. E. Williams, Dr. Frank Wallis, Joseph Reese, C. C. Hellmers and F. L. Flynt went to Burlington Junction Thursday night in the Williams car to attend the Masonic lodge there.

Women in Officialdom.

Mrs. Fred A. Britten, wife of the Chicago congressman, is one of the most beautiful and vivacious matrons of Washington. She is an expert driver of high powered automobiles.

Mrs. Richard Bartholdt of St. Louis, who has been in poor health for some time is now in Europe, where she will be given the benefit of nerve strengthening baths.

Miss Alice O'Gorman, daughter of the Democratic New York senator, is becoming a social leader in Washington. Her sister, Miss Dolorita O'Gorman, was married last May to John Anthony Maher, a New York broker.

Mrs. William P. Borland, wife of the Missouri congressman, recently adopted two baby girls. Shortly after adopting the youngsters they developed measles, and Mrs. Borland has become ill through her tireless nursing.

Miss Eleanor Wilson, daughter of the president, sets the styles in hats in Washington, just as Mrs. Longworth used to when she was Alice Roosevelt. She trims them all herself, and is said to have a deft touch that would make a real milliner green with envy.

Mrs. Charles R. Crisp, wife of the new congressman from Georgia, is one of the handsomest young women in the congressional set. She is a southerner, but has spent much time in Washington, where her husband was parliamentarian in the house of representatives before he was elected to membership.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson is taking a great interest in the question of the slums of Washington. Recently she sent a great many flowers to the alley homes that she had visited, her card being attached. Mrs. John Hay, wife of the former secretary, is honorary president of the Washington branch of the National Fruit and Flower Guild.

Mrs. Joseph T. Robinson, wife of the new senator from Arkansas, had an important part in aiding her husband to attain his present high position. In one month he had the unique distinction of being a representative, governor of his state and a senator. Mrs. Robinson was her husband's campaign manager.

The Southern society of Washington makes a wife eligible if her husband is, and a husband may come into the society through his wife. In fact, the family is not to be divided where membership is concerned. Whether it is to be simply a family affair, with no old maids or bachelors eligible has not been made clear.

Administration women at Washington are not simply society women, but most of them go in for some work for the elevation of women and the good of mankind. The work of Mrs. Wilson and her daughters is well known, and Mrs. Marshall, wife of the vice president, is very much interested, among other things, in the work of the Young Woman's Christian association. Recently she was elected honorary president of the Washington organization.

Loren Egley, living north of Maryville, went to St. Joseph Friday morning to visit his nephew, Lucien Lowe.

IT'S A MISTAKE.

Made by Many Maryville Residents.

Many people in a misguided effort to get rid of kidney backache, rely on plasters, liniments and other makeshifts. The right treatment is kidney treatment and a remarkably recommended kidney medicine is Doan's Kidney Pills. Maryville is no exception.

The proof is at your very door. The following is an experience typical of the work of Doan's Kidney Pills in Maryville.

J. A. Murphy, 805 East Fourth street, Maryville, Mo., says: "Some years ago I publicly recommended Doan's Kidney Pills, and I am just as strong in my praise of them now as I was then. I got my first box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Love & Gaugh's drug store, and I do not hesitate to say that they are very reliable in curing kidney trouble and lame back."

BIBLE-STUDY-ON

GOD'S INSTRUMENT IN PREPARATION.

Exodus 2:11:25.—July 13.

"Blessed are the meek; for they shall inherit the earth."—Matthew 5:5.

THE education of Moses is briefly summed up in the Biblical statement that he "was learned in all the wisdom of the Egyptians." Legend tells us something of his schooling in the philosophies of that time, and declares that he was a successful Egyptian general; but it is for us to follow the Bible account. The time was nearing when God intended to bring the Israelites out of Egypt into the Land of Promise—an illustration of the still more wonderful deliverance by the Greater than Moses, which now is nearing.

God's providences may be noted in respect to the experiences of Moses, who is credited by the Lord with having been "the meekest man in all the earth." God wanted a meek man for the important position which He intended Moses to fill. Moses' lessons and experiences helped to make him meek. Who cannot see that, if he had been proud and arrogant, he would have been unfit for the duties and responsibilities devolving upon him as leader of his people? Perhaps no man had a more difficult task than that represented in Moses' forty years with Israel in the wilderness. We may be sure that he was prepared for the ordeal only by the experiences of the preceding eighty years of his life.

Moses Threw Himself into the Scuffle.

The adopted son of the Egyptian princess, Moses must have been a court favorite, and in danger of cultivating pride and arrogance. As an offset, he had continually before him the fact that his features were Jewish, and that thus every one had knowledge of his identity with the despised and oppressed people. The tendency would naturally be toward one of two courses: Either he would seek to ignore the Hebrews and to become more and more identified with the Egyptians, or else he would exercise faith in the special promises of which his people were heirs as children of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.

St. Paul notes that Moses was a victor in this test. He chose to suffer affliction with the people of God rather than to enjoy the honors which might have been his as an adopted member of the royal family. (Hebrews 11:24-26.) To Moses the Promise which God made to Abraham, and repeated to Isaac and Jacob, and which still awaits fulfilment, was more to be desired than all the riches and honors of earth.

Moses Discouraged, Heartbroken.

Trusting in the Lord's Promise, Moses believed that the time had come for the deliverance of the Israelites from bondage. He knew well of his miraculous preservation, and had the assurance of God's Promise that this signified that God had a special work for him to do. He was anxious to begin that work. He knew not of his own unreadiness—that he would require forty years more of special schooling.

An occasion to show his zeal for his brethren came when he saw an Egyptian abusing one of them. Moses threw himself into the scuffle. The Egyptian was killed. Moses perceived that none of the Egyptians knew of the matter, so he quietly buried the victim in the sand. He doubted not that his brethren would realize that he was their friend and defender, and would look to him with confidence as their leader, when God's providence would open the door for them to leave Egypt.

But all his dreams faded when, next day, he perceived that there was no such loyalty among his brethren, and that they were ready to deliver him to the Egyptian authorities. Thoroughly discouraged and fearing for his life, Moses fled to the wilderness of Midian. It looked as though all his education and development had gone to waste.

Moses Jethro's Shepherd.

As the fugitive sat upon the casing of a well, shepherds brought their flocks for water. Amongst the sheep tenders were Jethro's daughters, and opposing them some ungallant shepherds, who hindered them. Moses took their part, and drew water for their flocks. Incidentally he walked with them toward their home. Jethro was appreciative of the stranger, who did not disclose his identity. Moses was thoroughly crestfallen, meek, teachable.

"Moses Helped Them."

Moses married one of Jethro's daughters and continued to be a shepherd for forty years. He did not at the time understand the Lord's providences in his affairs; but he was all those years learning a most important lesson of meekness, of full submission to the Divine will. When the lesson had been learned, God's time had come to put His thus doubly educated servant into a most important place, for which he never could have been qualified without just such experiences.

God's dealings with Moses illustrate the general principles of His dealing with all those whom He would use in special service.
